Ripple Effect – formerly Send a Cow – works with farming families in six African countries so that they can learn more, grow more and sell more.